

Dalibor Kovář Managing Associate

Dalibor Kovář specialises in intellectual property law, information technology, e-commerce, innovation and start-up projects, legal aspects of electronic legal acts, and the law of contract.

In the area of intellectual property and information technology law, Dalibor primarily focuses on the commercial aspects of licence and implementation agreements, legal issues relating to domain names, copyright protection, and the legal regulation of innovative technologies in general and in the finance sector in particular (FinTech).

In the area of digitalisation/electronisation he focuses mainly on the introduction of electronic (paperless) legal acts in public as well as private organisations, use of electronic identity, and the related aspects of personal data protection. In e-commerce, he specialises in comprehensive set-ups of legal processes.

In the law of contract, Dalibor primarily focuses on drafting specific and complex commercial contracts, including contracts with international aspects, and also gives lectures on the basics as well as specific issues of the law of contract.

Prior to joining our law firm, Dalibor Kovář worked at a major Czech law firm for three years and in the local office of an international law firm for one year, specialising mainly in commercial law and real estate law. In 2008, Dalibor studied at Université de Lorraine in Nancy, France.

Transactions

- legal advice prior to the commercialisation of a major software solution
- advising a leading Czech-based software provider on a dispute with a customer
- advising major local and international clients on revisions to contractual documentation in connection with the recodification of Czech private law, and drafting new template contracts
- advising a global provider of supplies and services relating to road traffic on contractual obligations and on the copyright aspects of contractual documents
- advising several major retail chains on comprehensive modification of their legal relations with consumers, including comprehensive regulation of e-shops
- providing ongoing advice on IT/IP law in connection with legal due diligence investigations of major Czech and multinational companies
- advising local and foreign companies on legal steps concerning unfair competition and infringements of their intellectual property
- drafting and negotiating purchase contracts and contracts for work in various business fields
- advising a leading media company in connection with comprehensive contractual documentation for a unique exhibition
- advising major entities in the finance sector on the implementation of fully electronic processes

Membership in professional associations

Czech Bar Association

Languages

Czech, English, French

Education

Charles University, Faculty of Law, Prague (2012), JUDr. (Doctor of Laws)

Charles University, Faculty of Law, Prague (2010), Mgr. (Master of Laws)

E: dalibor.kovar@havelpartners.cz

T: +420 255 000 885